Dear George:

You will recall that during the exercise at Fort Bragg you asked about an intelligence report which alleged that in case of war the Yugoslavs would instruct their shipping to put into Communist ports.

The report in question is one disseminated by this Agency on 8 March 1960 to the United States Navy and other members of the intelligence community as [redacted]

We are inclined to regard this report with some reserve.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director

Dear George:

During the recent Fort Bragg exercises you asked me about an intelligence report which claimed that the Yugoslavs in case of war would instruct their shipping to put into Communist ports.

I think I have identified the document you had in mind as [redacted] which was disseminated to the intelligence community by this Agency on 8 March 1950. The portion in question begins at page 5 (Tab) of the original translation.

On balance, having regard to the documentary nature of the evidence, I would tend to treat this report with some reserve.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director
